The Incredible Impact of a Gift in Your Will

A gift in a Will can change everything. During the Covid pandemic, It's in the Bag received an extraordinarily generous legacy at a moment of real uncertainty. Part of that gift helped save the charity at a very difficult time, ensuring we could continue supporting men and their families when they needed us most.

The impact didn't end there.

Thanks to the remaining funds, we have been able to create and fund a Band 4 Cancer Support Worker, two days per week, at the Bristol Haematology and Oncology Centre. This new patient-facing role has been 18 months in the making and will support men at diagnosis, guide them through those first overwhelming steps, and connect them directly to the services we provide.

One person's kindness has strengthened our charity, supported families through crisis, and made a new, life-changing service possible. What an extraordinary legacy to leave.
